Environmental Manuscripts Collections Fellowship
Center for Southwest Research and Special Collections
The University of New Mexico

The 2017-2018 Environmental Manuscripts Collections Fellowship is awarded to a graduate student enrolled at the University of New Mexico to work on an addition to the Sam Hitt Forest Guardians collection.

Forest Guardians was founded in 1989, under the direction of Sam Hitt. The organization described itself as a results-driven group that attempted to defend and preserve threatened Southwestern and Northern Mexico wildlife and ecosystems. Its larger goal was to protect and restore native Southwestern biological diversity and watersheds. In 2008, Forest Guardians, Sinapu, and the Sagebrush Sea Campaign joined forces to become WildEarth Guardians.

Duties and Responsibilities

Under the guidance and mentorship of a CSWR staff member, the fellow will evaluate, arrange, and describe 19 boxes of research reports, environmental studies, litigation documents, background materials, publicity, and the like. As a final product, the fellow will create a finding aid with descriptive information and contents list to be published in the Rocky Mountain Online Archive.

Terms of the Award

The award is for $15,000. The fellow will work 20 hours each week during the fall and spring semesters including finals week. University-wide holidays are exempted. The fellow is required to give a short research presentation in Spring 2018 relating to the work accomplished during the fellowship.
